

‘ALXIBEIRA’

GALICIAN TRADITIONAL FOLKLORE

‘Alxibeira’ is a group of young people, from 15 to 30 years old, who has worked in the recuperation of Galician traditions since 1986.

Their main aim: to revalorize Galician local customs and folklore, researching on the inherited dances and songs.

Alxibeira is a group of dance and traditional music that was born in Narón (A Coruña). Its repertoire is composed of representative songs and dances from the whole Galician geography. The same happens with their clothes, restored following traditional patterns and materials. The result is an authentic revival of traditions, the result of a deep investigation of the secular traditions and ancestral heritage that were on the verge of disappearance.

They have participated in a number of international folklore festivals and in intercultural exchanges.
